U-High Naming Opportunities

Many naming opportunities are available, including but not limited to the facilities themselves. State Law places some restrictions on naming of public buildings. No public building may be named in honor of any living person. Portions of buildings, including classrooms, auditoria, and laboratories, may be named after living persons. Current holders of elected public office, candidates for public office, and current members of the LSU Board of Supervisors and the Louisiana Board of Regents for Higher Education are not eligible for consideration. Facilities may also be named in honor of families, organizations or corporations.

You may review the available naming options listed in this brochure. If you are interested in having your gift recognized in one of the available areas of the campus, simply fill out the form on the back of this brochure and include it in your reply envelope.
