FOREWORD

To create is a noble deed; to cherish fond memories of Alma Mater is a divine love; to gladden a heart is a great reward. Then, gentle reader, if you have loved University High School, contributed by deed or encouragement in the assembling of The Cub for Forty-one, the builders thereof are not ashamed; for you have created, loved, and received a great reward.

DEDICATION

To Miss Margarete Teer and Mr. L. M. "Pat" Harrison, who have helped immeasurably in all the school's activities, including this annual, we the editorial staff respectfully dedicate the nineteen forty-one issue of our yearbook, The Cub.
The C U B

"To the Students of

At the conclusion of the first year of our new relationship, I wish to express to you the very great appreciation of the School of Education for your cooperation during 1940-41. Without the Laboratory School there could be no successful program for the professional education of teachers. You have assisted us in our efforts to supply to the State of Louisiana competent teachers in all fields.

I am particularly grateful to you for the enlistment of the cooperation of your fathers and mothers in securing for the School of Education a physical plant and other facilities which have been needed for a very long time. As we look to the future I am confident of your continued good will and constructive work.

Yours sincerely,

E. B. ROBERT, Dean
School of Education.

the Laboratory School

This yearbook preserves for us a record of the activities and achievements of our school for this year. And it does much more. It will prove our constant reminder of friendships and happy associations shared on the campus. We shall prize it most for that. As principal, may I express the sincere appreciation of the entire school to everyone who contributed to the success of this year's Cub? The work they have done will be a lasting work.

Sincerely yours,

GEORGE H. DEER, Principal
The Laboratory School."

ACT I
Jacky, an ingenious young man, is trying to get some money to put one of his inventions on the market. His sister Peggy, finding out about his need, manufactures some hair tonic to sell.

ACT II
Jacky's aunt, Eulalie, having a hard time keeping things together, may have to mortgage the house. Peggy's hair tonic makes a neighbor's hair fall out. Jacky writes to a toothbrush company to see if they will buy his invention. Things look bad.

ACT III
Peggy's hair tonic makes Mr. Knight's hair grow. Eulalie and Mr. Knight are brought together by Peggy. Mr. Knight decides to finance Jacky's invention. All ends well.

CLUB SONG
"Follow the Lamp" to the tune of "Follow the Glenn"

The Home Economics Club had a very active year. The members met once a month, usually at night, and the three sections of the club held their meetings on consecutive weeks between the general meetings.

The program theme chosen for the year was "The American Way of Life." Three of the programs given were called "Practice America at All Times," "Citizenship at Home and School," and "Our Country Needs Healthy Citizens." In May the members made an evaluation of the year's work and activities. This evaluation was presented in the form of a play.

Some of the other activities enjoyed during the year were Hallowe'en, Christmas and Valentine parties, a Mother-Daughter Banquet, and several candlelight services.

HI-Y CLUB

This year marks the first organization of a HI-Y Club at University High School. The chapter was organized with the assurance of Jimmie Stoker, Julius Michaelson, and Seymour Simmons, University students who are former members of HI-Y clubs.

The organization sponsored a Father-Son Banquet, March 27, 1941, a project designed to bring members and their fathers into closer relationship. The publication of "The Thunderbolt," a weekly two-page club paper, was another project.

After each weekly meeting the members engaged in swimming, tennis, football, basketball, badminton, or ping-pong. Various teams enjoyed competition with those of the Baton Rouge High HI-Y.

Senior members hope this new chapter continues to grow in size and service.

DRAMATIC CLUB

The Dramatic Club was organized this past February. Dr. Harley Smith and the student teachers have worked directly with the students in their dramatic efforts.

Membership in the club required that a student must have done some dramatic work during the year.

Two objectives of the club named at the first meeting were (1) to concentrate upon a definite field before attempting to produce any dramatic work, and (2) to exchange plays, readings, speakers, and ideas with Baton Rouge High.

Once a week some member of the club has presented a radio show over the local station, either alone or with a cast. The club admits that these presentations have been far from perfect, but believes that they have steadily improved. Among the plays given are: "The Sign of the Gilt Henn," "The Rehearsal," "On a Park Bench," and "The Two Thieves."
The Latin Club, the oldest club at U. S. N., was established in 1952. It meets on the Kalends and Ides of each month with the purpose of furthering the knowledge of the beliefs and customs of the Roman people.

Each year at Christmas-time a party is given at the home of Mrs. B. H. Moore, the club sponsor. All members of the Latin classes are invited. One feature of the party is the reciting of the Saturnalia, a Roman religious festival that corresponds to our Christmas.

The chapter of the Latin Club here at U. S. N. is a member of Junior Classical League, a national organization.

ATHLETICS

Under the supervision of Miss Lane and Mr. Fulmer physical education has developed steadily during the past few years. At the beginning of this year some new equipment was bought. Most of it is for archery and golf, but worn out equipment was also replaced.

To date about ten sports are included in the program. These are swimming, archery, golf, football, softball, tennis, soccer, volleyball, bowling, and handball. This variety has helped the students learn new sports and has given the teachers a chance to choose appropriate ones for each season.

The students do not just take part in these sports, but are taught the official rules and the fundamentals of playing each one.

Classes were conducted this year in first aid, health, and dancing. First aid instruction was given in stopping blood flow, tying bandages, and in treating sickness. A part of the year was spent in studying the causes, prevention, and cures of diseases common in the U. S. The girls spent many interesting periods studying dances of today and yesterday. Assembly programs presented many of these dances.

For its size, University High probably has a more varied physical education program than any other high school in the state.

A Message

The yearbook staff began compiling this annual about the middle of the school year, and the preceding pages are the product of our work. We have tried to make it as complete as possible with the funds available and hope it has been worthy of our effort.

Our genuine thanks go to all those persons who have helped in one way or another in making this issue of The Cub a reality.

Thanks, Advertisers

It was only through your help that this volume of The Cub could be published.

We hope the students and teachers of our school will spend their money with YOU.
