We the staff of the Laboratory School yearbook, in order to form a more perfect record, establish all classes, insure equal coverage, provide for many varied activities, promote a strong sports program, and secure the memories of education to ourselves and our community, do ordain and establish this yearbook for the Laboratory School of LSU.

The Cub 1987-88
Because 1987 was the bicentennial anniversary of the Constitution, the yearbook staff decided to recognize this with a theme of "We the People."

Friday morning the pep breakfast got many students out of bed 30 minutes early and up to school spirit. Anticipation was high on hopes of winning the game. We played the Kentwood Kangaroos and won 48 to 8. At half time the 1987 homecoming queen, Rachel Eglin and her court were presented. Half time entertainment included an extra special touch. The spirit steppers danced in tuxedos with music provided by the marching band.

Saturday finally came and it was time for us to celebrate our victory. And that we did as Homecoming '87 went up... up... and away!!!

the Spaghetti Supper was next.

This year the ice cream social started the new year off with a bang. At the social everyone had their fill of ice cream and chocolate syrup while meeting new students and catching up with old friends. The new students were introduced along with the current student council. The spaghetti supper was held the Friday after school began. The cheerleaders sponsored it and parents, students and teachers alike enjoyed the delicious supper provided by the cafeteria. What a great way to start off the new school year!

CHRISTMAS DANCE

The music, dancing, and lights of the Christmas Dance were quite merry this year. The seniors, sponsors of the dance, were eager to schedule it on the first night after exams. All students were ready to forget school and begin celebrating the holidays.

The Woman Is Required To Pay

How many times does the girl have the responsibility of paying for her date? At C-High, she has a chance at the Twirp Dance. The girl finally experiences what it is like to plan an evening and pay for it. The theme of the dance was shipboard romance. Everyone had a great time dancing to the hip sounds of the DJ.

Clockwise from above: — Charlotte Taylor, Ryn Rothledge, Rebecca Rudley, and Jai Mackey get into the Christmas spirit with their "ornamental" earnings. — Surprised by the unexpected, and apparently not impressed, are Tim Cunningham and his dates. — Trinidad Kellogg, Lisa, Susan, and Brenda are happy because they know that Santa is Katherine Armstrong, Leslie Harris, and friends stop dancing to pose for a quick pick. — These tough football players pose as characters at the Twirp dance, but are these their dates? NILE: Who's the tallest junior here — Leslie Harris, Scott Greyson, Stephen Levy, and Kelley Fonteau? BOTTOM: Yourself Crook and friends take a break in their dance of the year. Sadie Hawkins... by Day...

Let's see... my crystal ball looks rather cloudy. What do you mean?

Sadie Hawkins festivities took a different shape this year with "the dance" in the fall and "the day" in the spring. Some favorite characters of the day were Mary Jo Sue (Willington Mathews), Mary Sue (Kerri England), Daisy Mae (Erin May), and El Abner (Kyle Schell). The dance, as well as numerous other club sponsored activities brought big bucks for the seniors' annual money raise.

S.P.I.R.I.T! Let's hear it!

And indeed we did hear spirit! Let's at it! Put her feet on the music bus for us! This is the annual Blue Ribbon week. Spirit Day was performed until the last week. But then the lampoon collection. Picture and letter stickers were still put up, costumes may be made and dances planned. On that same day impressive in show for songs. The Junior Cabaret, with four leading the way "trendy" — the Sophomore Club in the Sophomore Agency 1-2-3-1 first place! The C.H.A. took second. The Senior "Sinbad" won first place fourth place by the Junior Cabaret who took third. Fred Rallis won a special award for the best column in a very large group. Fred & Company had a blast at the largest Spirit Week ever!
UHS in Honduras, The Second Chapter

Once again we are very proud to say we have had another excellent exchange with our sister school in Tegucigalpa, Honduras. We saw several new sites and did many new things. We climbed the highest mountain in Tegucigalpa, El Pico Alto, and we studied at the city college. When the Honduras visited here, we shared our homes. They received keys to the city and ate the finest cruchitas. We hope to continue our new tradition for many years to come. Those who went to Honduras were James Fowler, Aimee JoffreBehrndt, Jeniy Towels, and of course, our new friends from Honduras.

Awards Day — May, 1988

Each year the faculty votes for six of the most outstanding students in the Senior class. The winners of this year's prestigious CUB awards are John Thomas, Ashley Portillo, Brian Smith, and Brian Smith. The faculty has chosen John Thomas, Ashley Portillo, and Brian Smith as the recipients of the Outstanding Senior Award.

Congratulations to the following recipients of the following awards:

- John Thomas
- Ashley Portillo
- Brian Smith
- Thomas Portillo
- Ashley Portillo
- Brian Smith

The outstanding boy and girl of each of the other classes were recognized. They are as follows:

- 9th Grade: David Johnson and Kristin Smith
- 10th Grade: Tom Portillo and Brian Smith
- 11th Grade: John Thomas and Ashley Portillo
- 12th Grade: Thomas Portillo and Brian Smith

- Bottom Left: Chris Fox does the molding.
Presidential Classroom

All of the students who participated in Presidential Classroom this year agreed that it was an experience never to be forgotten! Each student traveled to Washington D.C. and for one week learned about our nation’s political system. The program included a number of seminars about different aspects of the government and issues of the city. The term “policymaking” consisted of the students discussing and debating on important issues facing our government today and then discussing their ideas with the class as a whole. Each seminar drew a different topic each day, from the government to the economy. Each seminar also provided a positive attitude toward the improvement of politicians’ skills in the near future. Upon their return, the students shared their experiences and the enjoyment they had with one of the most enjoyable and valuable experiences from Presidential Classroom.

Senior Class Officers clowning around: John Thomas, Vice President; Chris Nevils, President; Caren Mayer, Secretary; Karroll Payne, Treasurer.

The class of 1988 included eight students who went to University High from 1st to 12th grade. Professionals are Kyle Schack, Rachel Crigg, Rob Fox, Carmen Smith, Debbie Spradley, Joan L'Huillier, Elizabeth Blocher, and Joanna Summers.
Juniors

Class Officers: Front: Lori Lee, Vice Pres., Samaa Bayler, Rep.; Tee Cunningham, Secretary; Becky Barta, Secretary/Treasurer; Back: John Behr, Pres.

Under the leadership of President Brad Barta, Vice-President Lori Lee, Secretary/Treasurer Tee Cunningham, and Student Council Representatives Samaa Bayler, the junior class of 1990 had another successful year. Ordering class rings, taking college entrance exams, and choosing colleges were among the most exciting and traditional activities in which the juniors were involved. Everyone agreed that Spirit Week was the major highlight of the year because the class wanted so successfully accomplish a hard task, all in the name of fun.

We, the people of the 1987-88 sophomore class, had a fun-filled year. We took our turn doing the science plant collections for Mr. Macque. Although, the "f(des)" assignment caused us to be over-weight, the field trip helped to motivate the assignment.

In Mrs. Friberg's English class, the sophomores always had journals to keep them busy. Also, there were new and creative projects to do. For example, the students filmed their own dazzling production of "The Crucible," and Mrs. Friberg originated the "foot-loose" fun for Christmas.

SEVENTH GRADE

Middle school years are filled with varying emotions and activities. These seventh graders experienced a sense of camaraderie during their afternoons, a sense of maturity at Youth, and a sense of adventure at Camp Win-A-Friend. At the awards ceremonies, the school saw many seventh graders recognized as high achievers. This credit is well deserved as these students work diligently in their various classes.

Being in sixth grade means chasing after butterflies and stick bugs, dressing up for assemblies, having seven classes a day, and being the youngest of the secondary school. But, like the classes before them, the sixth grade this year has learned to forget some of the anxieties so that one day they would be carefree and reckless seniors who would rule the school.

Clubs

And so to the support of University High every club, every student, has pledged his all, making ’87-’88 the best year ever.
Student Council had an exciting and memorable year. The year started off with the annual ice cream mixer where all the new students were introduced along with this year's Student Council members. All the homecoming activities were a big hit and the band at the dance was successful. A record number of cans were contributed during the food drive and the Student Council lock-in was a big success. Winter Formal was beautiful even though the band was a little hit late. Student Council Week was fun highlighted by a victory by the seniors in the senior/faculty basketball game. The members of Student Council worked well together and made for a productive year.

They have sponsored activities such as the Thanksgiving Turkey Stroll, the Valentine's Day Stamp, the annual Middle School Jumble, and the quarterly awards assemblies. This year these members attended the USS #175 Pillar Jamboree.

The Middle School Student Council solicited 1,552 bags for the Jumble, which were then donated to seven needy families. They gave 416 pounds of food to the Bible Bowl Food Bank, and they gave 31 large bags of clothes and 500 pounds of clothes to the Salvation Army.

The Middle School Student Council sponsored many social and social events, making their year a huge success.

...I will maintain and encourage high standards of scholarship, leadership, service and character." This pledge was taken on March 2, 1983, the night of the NHS induction banquet. There were twenty-one people taking this pledge, eighteen of whom were new members.

The ritual was named by Secretary Amy Groves who gave the invocation. Then President Suzanne Williams welcomed the parents and teachers, and after the meal, the induction ceremony was held.

Four people spoke on the characteristics of NHS: Ashley Hallman on scholarship, John Thomas on leadership, Carie Mc. on service, and Brian Southwick on character. The new initiates were inducted and presented a medal and certificate.

Dr. G. Carline McKibben, Dean of Academic Services at EAU, gave the members and initiates words of inspiration.

This year there were two seniors and eleven juniors initiated. The seniors were Jimmy Patterson and David Thompson, and the juniors were Holly Rodell, Dale Gallery, Yendi Cook, Sue Catalogham, Dee Ann Evans, Leslie Raves, Brian Havill, Chad Lacy, Adrienne Martin, Noshah, Janet, Tony, Ferri, Suzanne Ryder, and Leah Wood.

MIDDLE SCHOOL DRAMA CLUB

STAGE CREW

The middle school Drama Club gives middle school students the opportunity to learn about the world of drama. We do improvisation, we read, write, produce, and present plays. We enjoy meeting other students who are not in our regular classes.

The members of the newly formed high school Drama Club count their first year as a learning experience. The officers of the club were guided by their only experienced thespian, John Bell. Under John's direction the club presented the one-act play The Vegetable Kid.

Wade Scott, Brian Southwick, and James Patterson are ready and willing to help in any production.

STUDENT/FACULTY RELATIONS BOARD

This year the Student/Faculty Relations Board continued the work started by last year's board. They immediately set out to solve the problems of University High School in order to become a permanent part of the student and faculty government. At University High, the Relations Board wrote its own constitution. With discussions ranging from how to increase the flow of the lines in the cafeteria to the possibility of a new class schedule, the Student/Faculty Relations Board continued to work on the problems that affect both the teachers and students of University High School.

ART CLUB

Art Club helped decorate for Homecoming during the first semester and held a pizza party at Godfather's to celebrate the first semester's end. Art students were engaged in poster contests and other activities at the beginning of the second semester. Art Club officers joined the Youth Art Council of America but didn't go to the convention. Next year Art Club will go to the convention. Art Club was invited to attend the Catholic High School Art Fair held March 19, 1988. Art Club sponsored a face painting booth and an apple dunk at the Sadie Hawkins Day festivities on April the 8th. Art club had more activities before the end of the school year.

London, Paris, and Madrid – 10 days!

Under the leadership of Bethany McCulla and Steve Delcoro, a group of students and parents from University Laboratory School had a marvelous opportunity to visit Europe. Their trip took them first to London, where the first morning tour included the Houses of Parliament, the Tower of London, Westminster Abbey, and Trafalgar Square. During the five days spent in England, a walking tour of Dickens’ London was, as well as a visit to the English countryside through Oxford to Stratford-on-Avon. A visit to the cathedral in Canterbury began the day which ended in the channel crossing at Dover.

A drive from Calais to Paris by motorcoach gave the group their first impressions of the second major portion of the tour. Three days in France is never enough! A night train express carried the group from Paris to Madrid for a visit of the famous sights there. Then an excursion to Toledo ended the trip as everyone boarded the flight to return home.

As a matter of policy, no events are ever covered in the yearbook that are not strictly school-sponsored. We are making an exception of this policy because of the educational nature of this adventure.

Juniors going on the trip included Major Happelde, Adam Sato, Jennifer Tomlinson, Marshall Hoolee, Jennifer Farnell, Scott Grinnell, and Katherine McCulla shown here with a trip sponsor, Mr. Delcoro. Also going on the trip were parents Mrs. Neclas and Sarah.

The Living Library

The eighth grade English class presented the Living Library program for the rest of the school. Each student was required to pick a book and read it. On the day of the Living Library, the students dressed as the main characters in the books. The students were stationed in the various sections of the library. Tour guides brought the visitors from section to section. Each student presented a summary of the book to the audience as someone “read” the library cards of that book.

CENTER — Holly Harmon (Snow White) and Hillary Brainard (White) give a book report of the popular children’s book Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs. — R. Vincent Kame, KENN TOM, and Scott Green are dressed as characters from Alice in Wonderland. LEFT Chris Day (Tom Sawyer) and Beto Bane (Tom) sit out an exciting scene from the book, The Adventures of Tom Sawyer.
As anyone who has taken the time to find out knows, the job of putting together a yearbook is a tedious, painstaking, arduous task. Each year, a group of hopefuls join the staff. Some of those dreams drift away, drowned by the sheer amount of effort and energy that goes into creating a yearbook. If there is one thing that stands out about this year's yearbook workers, it is the number of volunteers that helped put it all together. It was truly a work of WE THE PEOPLE.

Mitchell Noland, a sophomore, staff member, was the outstanding staff member for this year. He worked for many long hours on Saturdays and for a week after school was out.

COLLAGE

The College was a very successful project this year, thanks to the dedicated work of Mrs. McGilla, Brian Southwick, Chris Novik, and Ashley Covart. The College is a great way for students to display their skills in writing. It is always a thrill for any person to see their creations published!

UNITEENS

UNITEENS activities were a mixture of tradition and innovation. In August, a watermelon party at Kelli England’s house was the scene for the drawing of names for their sisters. After a few days of hints and secret messages, little sisters tried to identify their big sisters in the courtyard after school. The Uniteens established a new tradition by providing funds for a special lunch to honor all students who earned grade-point averages above 3.0. In December, members aided in the annual canned food drive by sorting, packing, and delivering food baskets to six less fortunate families — the true spirit of Christmas.

During second semester, the joint Key Club — Uniteens — sponsored had finally occurred. Jena Leblanc provided the place while Lloyd Brown provided the organizational expertise for a successful event. The most exciting project was done during Teacher Appreciation Week. Officers Kelli England, Rachel Ewin, Margaret Gaidel, Carrie Meyer, and Erin May organized club members by grade level to plan and make gifts for each teacher. As the school year came to a close, the last meeting brought reminiscences of fun times as seniors were bade farewell. Newly elected officers began to plan ahead for the coming year.

CHEERLEADERS

This year the U-High cheerleading team was made up of the following members: seniors: Sharon (Smitty) Smith, Buffy Harman, and Sue Sodeman; juniors: Linda Green, Becky Harris, and Julia Weinert; and sophomores: Melody Brewer and Cindy White. They made sure everyone's spirit was kept up as they cheered for the U-High teams. Not only did they cheer, though, the cheerleaders also helped sponsor the Spaghetti Supper along with the other pep clubs. They also did the U-High cornet with a T-shirt, shorts, and hula hoop. During the 1987-88 school year, the cheerleaders helped add school pride and spirit.

Middle School Choirs

The eighth grade choir has put in a busy year. The group, under the excellent direction of Mrs. Penny Hallman, aided their teacher by learning music which she was to direct at the L.M.E.A. All Parish Choir in District IV (Bogue). Also, the choir performed a Christmas play entitled "The Miracle of Derrick Texas." In the Spring, the group received a superior rating in the L.M.E.A. District IV Festival and performed a wonderful concert with a surfing theme.

This year has been very successful for the Ninth & Tenth Choir, directed by Dr. Cren. They performed a Christmas concert in the afternoon for the middle school student body and sang after one production of "The Wind in the Willows." Their most outstanding performance, though, proved to be at the L.M.E.A. District IV Festival. They received an overall rating of superior (I). They went on to participate in the State competition in Hattiesburg.

Treble Choir

The Treble Choir of 9th High did an excellent job this year. The group was comprised solely of freshman girls. Their uniform consisted of full-length black taffeta skirts, white blouses, and royal blue sashes. Songs from the Christmas Concert (in which the group was featured were "What Are the Signs" and "Bring Your Turtles." Also, various Treble Choir members participated in the All-District Choir program, conducted by Dr. Larry Wyatt. The Spring agenda for the group included the L.M.E.A. District IV Festival, in which they received a superior rating, and a wonderful Spring Concert given for the Honor's Assembly. All in all, Treble Choir has had a great year!
MIXED CHOIR

The Mixed Choir of U-High has done an excellent job once again this year. Dressed in gold and black robes, the sophomores, juniors, and seniors that form the mixed choir demonstrated their talent beautifully at the annual Christmas Concert. The concert included a variety of works, including mixed choir's "Jesus, Jesus, Rest Your Head" and "The Little Drummer Boy," with soloists Kirk Kieback, Morris Long, and Wade Scott. The group also participated in the LMEA District IV Festival, received a superior rating, and went on to State in Ruston, La. They ended the year with a superb spring concert.

SINGERS

The Singers proved themselves to be a great asset to U-High again this year. The group was comprised of five juniors and fourteen seniors who auditioned for their positions. Under the superb direction of Mrs. Penny Hallman, the Singers provided much enjoyment for many people. The group performed on the USS Kidd, on Channel 2's "Time-In," for Holidays at the Wilton, and gave a wonderful Christmas concert. Also, they sang for the NALS Convention, the LMEA District IV, and State Festivals, in which they received superior ratings, and presented the delightful production of "The Wind in the Willows." All in all, the Singers put in a busy year, full of hard work, fun, and beautiful music.

UNIVERSITY HIGH SCHOOL BAND, 1987-88
During 1987-88, the University High School band enjoyed a very busy, but enjoyable and productive year. The school year actually began during the summer, with Drum Major Ashley Halfman attending the Drum Major Academy held at Northfield costs. Halfman and two members of the band, Andy Dammer and John Martin, participated in the 500-member Louisiana All-State Marching Band, which rehearsed for a week period and performed at the Louisiana High School State Festival held at LSU.

As August approached, plans for alumni marching season were made by Mr. Norton and the band directors. The band performed at many of the football games, at all pep rallies, and at the marching season. At the Krewe of High School Band Festival, the band received a "Superior" rating. And at the Benson Springs High School Band Festival, the band received an "Excellent" rating. Participating in marching season is a new and unique experience for all the band members; the band's marching performance was perfect during the football season, but band students were still working on the sound of "Louie, Louie" and "Little Boy Blues One."

VARSITY

The cross country team had a very successful season this year. Jon Pruett led the boys' team to the district championship as they captured eight of the top ten places in the meet. The girls' team, led by Elizabeth Hutchinson, also placed high and went to state. Under Mr. DelSordo's coaching, both teams improved throughout the year. Jon Pruett missed the school record for three miles by only a few seconds.

The excellent sports program at University Laboratory School starts with early training. These students in the 7th and 8th grades are getting an opportunity to play competitive basketball. This will give them more presence on the court when they move to the junior varsity and varsity teams in later years.
Vegas! Here Come the Cubs!

The invitation to the Holiday Pre Classic in Las Vegas provided the UK players a chance to visit a region of the U.S. very different from Baton Rouge. The first time on travel for some of the group proved a bump — and on arrival, the group found Vegas to be extremely chilly. The basketball competition was fierce, while theD.C. record shone the superiority of the other teams.

Las Vegas is a city of lights, hotels, and casinos. The team was able to see the vast rooms filled with every conceivable type of gambling game. The splendor of the enormous Caesar's Palace was rivaled only by the short ride of Hoover Dam. A ride through the racetrack and old section of town was unforgettable. In general, the team thoroughly enjoyed the expedition to Nevada and grew closer together as teammates and at friends.

The Faculty-Senior Basketball Game was an interesting diversion at the end of the year. The seniors not on the basketball team took the field against the formidable faculty. They managed to seek out a victory as the faculty fought fiercely — but not always so fairly. Needless to say, a good time was had by all!

SWIMMING

Under the leadership of Coach Jendesikowski, the swimming team ended the regular season with the following record. In cluster meets, the girls' team placed 2nd in one and 3rd in three, while the boys' team placed 2nd in one, 3rd in two, and 4th in one. In the City meet (15 teams), the girls were 2nd and the boys were 4th. Liz Dolan received the award for the most outstanding female swimmer in the city. A number of the swimmers qualified for the State meet. On the following page, you will see pictures of some of the swim team members in action.
Tennis

Under the leadership of Coaches Gayle Aver and Barbara Freiberg, the tennis team ended district play with 7 wins, 1 tie and 1 loss.

Closing

Another year of hard work and good times comes to a close, proving the students of University High to be “marvelously elastic” themselves.
