Clockwise from top left: (1) Jenny and Erin helped a student teacher bag leaves as part of Spirit Week. (2) Todd, Jason, Ben, and Ryan hope they don't have to eat their "conclusions." (3) Cross Country requires stamina and determination. (4) Seniors and eighth graders spruced the building with bows during Spirit Week. (5) It's just Mrs. Fredrick's students and their interpretation of the Salem Witch Hunts.

Clockwise from top left: (1) Mrs. Crull's second grade LOVES to make Valentines. (2) Brenna, are you reading for Broadway? (3) So, while everyone watches, Amy negotiates the stars very carefully. (4) Ashley, Leah, Clayton, and Coven huddle in the gym. (5) Katherine works in her class's math center.
Dr. Jim is the first Royal Reader for Mrs. Cottis class.

Evan, why does Chris get to eat and you don't?

Andrea and Trista make "magic eyes!"

Spirit Week efforts are enjoyed by everyone in Little.

Jack has the last laugh.

Mrs. O'Brien and Mrs. Sessions say, "Thank goodness! They're gone!"

Middle School Girls’ Basketball

The Eighth Grade Girls’ Basketball Team pulled together, supported and encouraged each other, and grew week by week. We finished our season 8-2. Among our most exciting games were our two victories over Episcopal High scorers and rebounders for the season were Jessica Chapman, Cara Tyson, Katie Pender, Brooke Baker, and Lauren Byrd.

This was a great team to work with and I look forward to working with them again next year, Coach Landes.

The Seventh Grade Girls’ Basketball Team had a great year. They are one of the hardest working groups at University High. This group of girls always supported their teammates and gave encouraging words to cheer their teammates to victories. They are a great example of what a team is all about.

I truly enjoyed working with these girls and look forward to having them join the high school team in the future. Coach Faebel.

Middle School Basketball

The seventh grade boys had a very successful basketball season. Coach Repetz and Coach Hill divided us into two equal teams so everyone saw lots of quality playing time.

In January, U-High hosted the Middle School Shootout, a tournament for seventh and eighth grades. The seventh grade finished in first place!

All in all, it was a fun year and a great way to learn basketball fundamentals. Beau Benson.

The eighth grade boys' basketball team experienced a change this year. The boys who went out for the team were divided into two teams, a gold team and a black team. This provided more playing time for the many boys who wanted to play. In tournaments, the two teams were combined. This proved to be a great idea because we were quite successful. We placed second in both the St. Therese Invitational and the U-High Shootout.

The eighth grade boys' basketball team had a great year! Thanks Coach Repetz and Coach Hill. Andy Redman.

Freshmen

The freshman year was lots of fun. The freshman class took advantage of all the activities U-High had to offer. The class enjoyed Sadie Hawkins, Homecoming, Christmas Dance, and Winter Formal. It was nice to be included as part of the high school and its traditions this year. Many freshmen were in clubs and played team sports, such as football, basketball, soccer, and track. We learned much from these activities, including leadership skills and teamwork. Spirit Week was kind of a disappointment though. The freshman class was not aware of all the organization and work it took. We waited a little too late to get things planned and organized. We still had a lot of fun with the games and the skills, but we will be ready to compete next year.
Sophomores

For many reasons, the sophomore class has enjoyed our second year in high school. We are no longer the youngest and least experienced in senior high. We have learned and grown a lot since last year, and these changes have made us stronger and closer to each other. Whether it is studying for English or biology together, or dancing at parties, we always enjoy one another's company. We have had many successes and very few failures as a class. We sincerely hope that these trends continue. This year is the halfway mark for us, and we hope that the future years will prove to be as positive and exciting as these past two years have. Amanda Spain, President.

Juniors

One more year to go! The junior year is a time of hard work and a time of growth as we get closer to meeting our goals. Potentially, we take on new responsibilities in our academic lives but in our personal lives as well. This year was a time of making new friends and growing closer to the old ones. The highlight of the first semester for juniors was receiving class rings. The second semester was filled with anticipation of our Senior Year. We trained, we matured, and now we must move to our last year at U-High.

Clubs
Environmental Club

We had a busy year. We helped by supporting the Senior Clean-up by hanging a sign to show how to Sadie Hawkins. To make a major effort in our environment, we also plan to continue this great work. We also worked on beautification, and we are proud to be a part of the school's green movement. Our club was able to create a beautiful display on the Senior Clean-up day, and we worked hard to create a beautiful display. We are excited to continue this great work, and we hope to see you at our next meeting.

Art Club

The Art Club enjoyed a successful '94-'95 school year. Our major project was to create a sculpture to raise funds to purchase a laser disk player and accessories. This project is well underway, but still incomplete.

One of our favorite annual events is the Art Show at the end of the year. This year was no exception—the art was plentiful and attractively displayed. One of our most worthy annual events is the Carved Gifts Campaign. This year we were able to help those who are less fortunate. And, we remembered our teachers with fine art prints again this year.

The Art Club members are proud of their accomplishments this year and expect a great year in '95-'96.

Spanish Club

Spanish Club members learn recently in the club piano activities (pictured). Dinara, April, and Boehm lead the group in its planning.

Our Spanish at Eagle Week in Fair

The Spanish Club used old traditions and new activities this year. Our student leaders involved learning the culture through the different levels of Spanish speaking people. (Hammock) We also continued our important campus service activities. One of our activities was the making of a Spanish video as part of an exchange program with a school in Dallas.
Hi-Y

This year's Hi-Y was active as usual and always pulled in a lot of school events. Hi-Y hosted a retirement party in the year for the faculty members who retired. It was the last year they had to be a part of the operation.

We especially enjoyed watching the Model UN delegation. It was only in their a valuable personal experience that they experienced. A hands-on learning opportunity that offered students from around the year the opportunity to actually participate in the process.

Presidential Classroom

A thousand points of light - this is what best describes Presidential Classroom. It is the experience of a lifetime. Presidential Classroom is a time when ordinary high school students from all over the country and several U.S. territories come together and walk with the voices of Congress and lawmakers for a week. It draws students from everywhere and brings them into Washington, D.C., where they will meet with important political leaders, research important ideas on current political topics, debate current political issues, dine in restaurants and dinner theatres around Washington D.C., and see the sights and hear the sounds that our nation's capital has to offer. If the students have any time left over, they sometimes decide to sleep. Just being in Washington D.C. brings a strong feeling of patriotism over anyone fortunate enough to be there. For anyone who is eligible to go, Presidential Classroom is truly a once-in-a-lifetime experience that should not be missed. Todd Richardson

Senior Specials
Senior Wills

1. Denson Alexander, being of tired mind and tall body, will to John Compton the ability not to get busted every time he does something wrong.
2. Catherine Alvarez, being of "dressed-out" mind and soon-to-be my mother's body, do hereby will to Russell Holmes a picture of Tommy and Michael so that she can distinguish between the Turnipolos brothers, and to Mark A. a bowl of CoCo Krispies so my dad will be relieved of his misery.
3. Elizabeth Armstrong, being of pathetic mind and often crippled body, will to Katya F. her own personal phone company, and to the next female student who drives a monster truck my ability to dodge medians and poles.
4. Brian Ayres, being of exhausted mind and lanky body, will to John Compton the ability to realize when someone is obviously better than him.
5. Holly Barbey, being of out of proportion (Valusian) body and dingy mind, will to Troy Barlow a good V-8 and some more Spaghetti-O's.
6. Erin Blund, having no comment on the state of either my mind or body, do hereby will to my brother John anything I have that he needs to make it through the next four years.
7. Beth Blyskal, being of scared, yet functioning, mind and slowly expanding body, will to Kim Kelly the ability to be polite, to Jennifer Hoffman the ability not to call people weird before she knows them, and to Taysia Bloom the will to live for three more years.
8. Austen Boudreaux, of Caligulan mind and Calvin Klein body, do hereby will to Jennifer Hoffman my favorite pair of thongs, to Gayle Petitch four really stuffed animals and a bowling ball with the letter "W" on it, and to the members of University High's Choir a lifetime of self-respect.
9. Rusty Cadwallader, being of convex body and insurpassable intellect, do will to Kelly Hawkins my humility, to physics students my ability to roam the halls with impunity, and to all the Ys presidents my ability to cause trouble at UN and LEG.
10. Tameka Dionne Clark, being of militant mind and thick body will to Leitha Smith an unbreakable Babyface tape and a lifetime of mornings listening to "I'm Sorry Baby" by Chuck A. Hall, to Taysia Bloom my ability to keep your cool, to Emily Bond a Stars and Stripes wardrobe, and to the population of UHS that still gives homage to the Confederate flag. I will to you the same match that my forefathers used to burn it.
11. Todd Crockett, of muscular, yet flayed, body due herby will my charms, wit, personality, and my ability to spell to the school.
12. Austin Daniel, being of fat cat body and never having possessed a mind, will to Scott Redman a horse and saddle so he can live up to his dream of being a cowboy and to Loree Cox a pair of dog clippers for his hair and a pair of pants that do not fit a man with a size 46 waist.
13. Jeremy Deville, being of conservative mind and stumbling body, so hereby will to Mark Tridico some gold chains and a leather suit because I know he can use them, and to John Ryan Nader I will eight seconds of perfection.
14. Ashley Floyd, do hereby will Lawrence St. Amant my ability to tolerate UHS, to Leitha Smith a man that doesn't leave her for Bethel, and to Mark Tridico and Troy Barlow a great big pasture with some grass on the side.
15. J.T. Garrett, being of undeterred mind and couch potato body, do hereby will my athletic ability to John Compton, in case you decide to climb any fences, and a pair of Nikes to the "true" cowboys so they can stop with their pathetic act.

Seize The Day ...
Thanks to you, Parents!

Thanks, Dad! You handle the cooks at the football games.

And, Mom and Dad, you attend all our functions.

You come to the basketball games and bring your friends.

And, Mom, you do your share of concession setting.

Yes, you're always there for us.

And sometimes you even go with us.

And you mean so much to us... THANKS!

We Made It Happen . . .
Editors’ Page

Alas! Another year is over, leaving us to prepare and look forward to next year. However, looking back, we realize that there are so many things that we don’t want to forget. The 84 pages of this book will always allow you to take the journey through your year at U-High. It seems impossible to put a limit on memories, but we have done our best. Look through these pages now, and again in twenty years. When you do, remember the excitement, the fun, and the love that the U-High Cup spirit has planted in you. Feel nostalgia. You will read captions and see pictures of faculty, friends, and those who were there, and are now, a major part of your life. We hope that you will be glad that you have this book to look back on and that its theme has, indeed, taught you the importance of "Seizing the Day."

While you were our posing for these pictures and creating new memories, the U-High Yearbook Staff was busily working within the walls of Mrs. Sessions’s geometry classroom to keep these memories alive. This book would not have been even remotely possible without our wonderful advisors, Mrs. Carol Young and Mrs. Mary McGee. We’d also like to thank Senior Editors Erin Bland and Amy Crow for their hard work, dedication and advice. Finally, our appreciation also goes to all the staff members who spent Wednesday afternoons drawing layouts, and especially “Thanks” to the staff members who worked so hard after school was out. Without their help, these memories would have slipped right through our fingers.
